

TELNIC LIMITED TO OFFER .TEL DOMAINS THROUGH MYSPACE

LONDON, United Kingdom – 24th March, 2009—Telnic Limited (www.telnic.org), the registry operator for the new communications-focused .tel top level domain (TLD), is pleased to announce today that MySpace, the world’s premiere social portal, will now be offering .tel domains to its members.

MySpace's 130 million active users, with over 20 million unique monthly users accessing the community via mobile devices, will now be able to take advantage of the .tel to better promote their MySpace page in organic search results from any device. At the same time, users can use the .tel domain to securely share their more private contact information with non-MySpace users who wish to contact them.

“We’re delighted that MySpace will be offering .tel domains to its community, enabling them to more quickly and easily manage all aspects of their online life,” said Khashayar Mahdavi, CEO of Telnic Limited. “MySpace is exactly the type of partner that has the foresight to see the .tel as a complementary product, providing choices as social networkers adopt new modes of communication while they continue to enjoy the benefits of MySpace.”

In partnerships with several ICANN accredited registrars, MySpace will be offering .tel domains to its community for $19.99 per year starting on March 25th.
